Milestone TimeLine chart

- A milestone chart is a tool that is used for scheduling and visually displaying the important dates or events in a project.
- By breaking down the project timeline into different stages with a milestone chart, we can simplify and track the completion or start of project milestones.
- A milestone chart is a way to visualize the most important steps of the project.
- Each milestone the team achieves brings us closer to completing our project—in this way, milestones provide a sense of accomplishment and shows the team how the work is progressing and how close to the project.

- A timeline tool is easy to set up and maintain, especially whenever the team has to add new tasks or adjust milestones.
